COMPETITIONS UPDATES

• Four-Ball Net Championship

Clubs may now enter two teams into this popular championship. Many clubs have a special tournament dedicated to sending the winning team to this championship. We still encourage clubs to have those special tournaments, but now will allow up to two team entries per club.

• Desert Team and Desert Classic Championships will be combined

The Desert Team Championship was created in 1978 to provide desert clubs with a form of team competition, as they were not eligible to participate in Thursday/Saturday Team Play program at that time. In 2012 the format, date and eligibility of the championship will change, and it will merge with the Desert Classic (formerly adopted from the PLGA). This championship will now be open to all SCGA members. The format will change to a two-person team event.

• SCGA One-Day Tournament Program continues to expand

We've added more sites and new venues for the 2012 One-Day Tournament series, which are available for players of all skill levels. A lot of these events are held in vacation destinations so that they can be played during a weekend getaway. The One-Days are quickly becoming popular and will offer different formats (Individual Net, Stableford, Four-Ball, Couples, Two-Man Scramble). These events will also be flighted based on your abilities.
