CIF State Girls Golf Championship Participants:

Welcome, and congratulations on qualifying for the CIF State Girls Golf Championship. The California Golf Association is proud to partner with the CIF in hosting this prestigious championship. Everyone is anticipating an outstanding competition among California's finest high school players.

We are most grateful to the membership and staff at Victoria Club for making its exceptional course available to us. Victoria Club is one of the most esteemed golf establishments in Southern California. Victoria Club traces its roots to the 1880s when Riverside's booming citrus industry made it a nationally recognized destination for tourists, commercial travelers, and ambitious businessmen. Founded in 1903, the original nine-hole golf course was developed by the first SCGA President, Charles Maud. Victoria Club was eventually expanding to 18-holes in 1920 after their members were able to secure additional nearby land.

The course is set amidst large Italian Stone Pines, California Peppers and large Oak trees and should prove a wonderful venue for this Championship. Victoria Club has played host to numerous USGA qualifiers, California Amateur qualifiers and the 108th SCGA Amateur Championship in 2007. This will be the first time Victoria Club has hosted the CIF State Girls Golf Championship.

Please remember we are guests at the club, and we must abide by the club policies and dress code laid out in this document. Thank you in advance for your cooperation and, once again, welcome to the championship.

Enclosed is important information on all aspects of the championship. Please review the information as it is intended to help make your experience go as smoothly as possible. I wish you the best of luck in the tournament!

Tom Bone
President, California Golf Association

TO: ALL ADMINISTRATORS, COACHES AND ATHLETES
FROM: ROGER BLAKE, CIF EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR
RE: EXPECTATIONS FOR SCHOOLS, COACHES AND STUDENT-ATHLETES IN PURSUING VICTORY WITH HONOR

The CIF was formed, and had its humble beginning, during the 1914-1915 school year with only 65,927 high school students in California; it has been estimated that less than 8,000 students were participating on their high school athletic teams. Today, California high schools boast over 1.8 million students and this past school year more than 800,000 students participated in education-based athletics in California.

During the past century, education-based athletics transformed from an important local community event to one that is frequently on broadcast television and the Internet with full-time websites dedicated to recruiting and blogging about teams, student-athletes and coaches. Most however, still refer to education-based athletics as the last “true amateur sport” venue in America, because our mission and value system is based upon the core foundation of student participation, sportsmanship and fair play. While professional sports, collegiate athletics and even most youth programs have moved toward a business model where finances, income and winning is the sole mission, education-based sports still remains dedicated to providing opportunities for kids to compete in a safe and fair environment.

Sports add richness to a school culture by providing opportunities for any student who wants them. It is the largest “elective” program on any high school campus. Nationally, and here in California, participation by students in high school sports programs is at its highest level in history proving the desire and need is vast. In the process of deriving enjoyment from participation in athletics (Number one reason kids play sports: Fun), our students are learning life-long skills that help them develop into healthy adults and productive citizens. National research continues to validate that students involved in extra-curricular activities attend more days of school, perform better in the classroom, and have less behavioral issues at school; lower dropout rates and lower alcohol and drug abuse rates, than students who do not participate. The data and the lists of participation benefits are endless.

It is true that we occasionally see acts of poor sportsmanship and behavior by a player or a coach, but the overwhelming majority of school contests reflect the positive elements of Pursuing Victory with Honor. True, the goal is always to win the contest, but education-based athletics, when done correctly, places the value of life lessons, character and sportsmanship ahead of winning. It is this ability of education-based sports leaders to keep athletics in its proper perspective that helps separate us from the rest.

It is vital that as parents, fans and education-based sports leaders that we remember that less than 2% of our participating students will go on and compete in college athletics. Kids participate in sports because it’s fun and the athletic fields and gymnasium classrooms our schools provide gives adults the opportunity to teach valuable lessons that might not be learned in any other environment. Creating life-long skills and helping create better citizens through participation in education-based athletics is the greatest gift we can give to the future.

We acknowledge that education-based, high school sports are enhancing students’ lives, and ours, in ways that few other activities could. And we agree that, regardless of what side of the field we sit on, attending a high school sporting event is an uplifting, enriching, family-friendly experience for all of us. We would be remiss if the CIF did not thank our CIF family of corporate sponsors who contribute and allow for all of us to experience the joy of education-based athletics.

Help us create an atmosphere where the students of California gain a love of competition and personal growth that will help them mature into productive and caring citizens through their participation in sports. As you enjoy these Championship contest, please help by teaching and demonstrating respect. Displays of good sportsmanship will say positive things about you and your school community, and hopefully remind us all that in the end, sports are meant to be fun and enjoyed by not only those participating, but those in attendance also.
